EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Introduction

The Government established the National Anti-Corruption Campaign Steering Committee (NACCSC) and appointed members through the Kenya Gazette Notice No. 6707 of 19th September, 2014 – see appendix I. NACCSC is mandated to undertake a nationwide public education, sensitization and awareness-creation campaign against corruption aimed at effecting fundamental changes in the attitudes, behaviour, practices and culture of Kenyans towards corruption. NACCSC comprises 14 Members drawn from Government Ministries, Departments and Agencies (MDAs) relevant to the campaign against corruption; the National Youth Council and National Council for Persons With Disabilities; Religious Organizations and Maendeleo Ya Wanawake Organization, all of which have functional structures up to the grassroots suitable for campaign implementation. Members from MDAs have designated Alternates as listed in appendix II.

Paragraph 5(c) of the Gazette Notice requires NACCSC to prepare half-yearly reports for H.E. the President detailing the progress made in the implementation of various campaign programmes and activities. In line with this requirement, NACCSC has prepared this report covering the period 1st October, 2016 to 30th June, 2017, a period of nine months, instead of the six months envisaged in the Gazette Notice. The delay in preparation was occasioned by the realization that some of the Reports that NACCSC had previously prepared transcended two financial years, resulting in incoherence, hence the need to synchronize the reports with the Government financial year. This could only be achieved by delaying the preparation of this Report by three months. NACCSC sought advice from the Office of the Attorney General and Department of Justice and the recommendation was cleared.

A. Summary of Campaign Activities

To be prepared once the Report is approved by the Steering Committee

I. REPORT ON CAMPAIGN ACTIVITIES

Implementation of the campaign activities was undertaken within four broad areas of communication, advocacy, administration and finance and accounts as detailed below while the Directorate continued to provide strategic leadership and overall guidance.

A. COMMUNICATION ACTIVITIES

In the reporting period, the following campaign activities were implemented under Communications: –

1. Anti-Corruption Radio Campaign

NACCSC conceptualized and developed an anti-corruption radio campaign in form of talk shows to reach a majority of Kenyans who listen to the radio estimated at over 90%. The anti-corruption radio campaign was themed “Elections and Good Governance” given that the country was preparing for the general election in August 2017. NACCSC, through the Government Advertising Agency (GAA), procured the services of five radio stations, thus Radio Citizen, Radio Ramogi, Kameme FM, Hope FM and Pwani FM. The stations carried the campaign until June 2018 when, based on the positive response by the listeners, NACCSC extended the period of the campaign by two months and also procured two additional stations, thus Musyi FM and Iftiin FM.

The campaign was highly interactive, with guests invited from various institutions to facilitate the programmes being given an opportunity to deliver their messages, including on the mandates of their institutions. Listeners on their part, made their contributions by sending their questions, comments and opinions/suggestions to the guests through short text messages, face book posts and tweets; and telephone call-ins. Messages that were disseminated sensitized the listeners to understand corruption, types, manifestations, effects and actions that should be taken to fight and prevent corruption in the general election.

Listeners were also sensitized on the qualities of a leader of integrity, benefits of electing individuals that were not tainted by corruption, the corruption-prone areas and corrupt practices in the electoral processes; and their individual and collective role in ensuring that elections in Kenya were free, fair and credible, devoid of corruption.

A total of sixty-eight (69) one-hour talk show programmes were produced and transmitted, reaching an estimated 20.9 million listeners weekly. Details of the campaign are provided in appendix III.

Challenges

The campaign experienced some challenges, key among them inadequate funds to procure additional radio stations so as to reach many more Kenyans, lack of cooperation by some of the institutions that were invited due to the critical roles they played in electoral process and the fight against corruption; and change of transmission dates by the radio stations to accommodate other prioritized programmes.

2. National Elections Conference

NACCSC took part in a three-day National Elections Conference organized by the Independent Elections and Boundaries Commission (IEBC), Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission and 'Kura Yangu, Sauti Yangu' organization. The Conference was held at the Kenyatta International Convention Centre from 12th to 14th June, 2017 and included an exhibition, focused group discussions and debates on specific topics in the elections. NACCSC was represented by the Vice Chairperson and members and made a presentation on leadership, ethics and integrity in the general election as well as the role of the electorate in ensuring that only leaders of integrity were elected.

3. Nation Leadership Forum

NACCSC participated in the second Nation Leadership Forum organized by Nation Media Group and themed "Kenyan Election: Voters and Leadership". The Forum was held on 29th June, 2017 at the University of Nairobi Auditorium and was transmitted live on television. NACCSC was represented by the Vice Chairperson and Members in the forum that brought together various stakeholders in the electoral process with the aim of educating and sensitizing voters, and Kenyans at large, on the need to elect leaders of integrity and ensure the General Election would be free, fair and peaceful. The Forum also sought to create awareness on the need to fight corruption in the elections, remain accountable and promote best practices in the conduct of public affairs.

Mutura led the NACCSC Members to the 2nd Nation Leadership Forum organized by the Nation Media Group at the University of Nairobi Auditorium. Seated on her left is the NACCSC Ag. Director, Mr. David Gathii

4. Press Conferences and Statements

a) Press Conference on the Sustained Fight against Corruption

NACCSC members addressed a press conference on 29th December, 2016 to communicate to Kenyans a New Year Message encouraging them to continue fighting corruption. Specifically, the statement encouraged Kenyans to sustain the fight and also prevent corruption from taking place in their everyday lives and not to accept to participate in corrupt deeds. The statement was uploaded and was available in the NACCSC website, www.naccsc.go.ke.

b) Press Statement on Strategies by Presidential Candidates to Fight Corruption

NACCSC issued a press statement on 8th June, 2017 requesting all the Presidential Candidates that had been cleared by the Independent Electoral and Boundaries Commission to contest in the general election to make public the strategies and plans they intended to apply to fight corruption in Kenyan should they be elected. The statement was intended to generate a national conversation on the fight against corruption and ensure that the anti-corruption agenda was constantly addressed during the electioneering period. It was also to create awareness for the voters to scrutinize and interrogate such strategies and plans once they were made public but to also take note of the candidates who did not make any commitment in their manifestos to fight corruption. The statement advised the voters to use the pledges made during the campaigns to later hold their leaders to account once they were elected into office. The statement was uploaded and was available in the NACCSC website, www.naccsc.go.ke.

5. International Anti-Corruption Day

The 2016 International Anti-Corruption Day themed “Fighting Corruption: Our Collective Responsibility” was celebrated in nine regions, with the National event being held in Kajiado County at the KCB Grounds on 9th December, 2016. The Chief Guest was the Chief Justice and President of the Supreme Court, who was represented by the Deputy Chief Justice. It was attended by the Cabinet Secretary, Ministry of Interior and Coordination of National Government, Director of Public Prosecutions and Kajiado County Governor, among other leaders. Activities included address by leaders and exhibitions, both of which NACCSC participated in. NACCSC Chairman addressed the participants on the individual and collective role in fighting and preventing corruption, particularly during implementation of public projects and programmes. NACCSC, through the County Anti-Corruption Coordinators and County Anti-Corruption Civilian Oversight Committees, also participated in the regional celebrations held in Embu, Kwale, Narok, Kakamega, Elgeyo Marakwet and Garissa Counties. NACCSC also carried anti-corruption messages in a quarter page newspaper supplement carried in the Daily Nation newspaper on 9th December, 2016.

6. Breakfast Talk Show

NACCSC, through the Ag. Director as a panelist, participated in the NTV Breakfast Show on 10th November, 2016. Discussions were centered on leadership and corruption. Specifically, the mandate of NACCSC, corrupt practices, qualities and benefits of electing leaders of integrity were emphasized as was the need to ensure only leaders of integrity were elected or appointed positions of responsibility.

B. ADVOCACY ACTIVITIES

During the reporting period, advocacy campaign activities were implemented as follows: -

1. County Anti-Corruption Civilian Oversight Committees

Pursuant to the provisions of paragraph 5(h) of the Kenya Gazette Notice No 6707, NACCSC established County Anti-Corruption Civilian Oversight Committees (CACCOCs) to undertake sensitization and awareness creation campaigns at the grassroots, monitor and address corruption in the implementation of public projects and programmes and provide support mechanisms necessary for the public to fight and prevent corruption. The report on CACCOCs is as follows: -

a) CACCOCs Workplans

The CACCOCs prepared and submitted to NACCSC their 2016-17 workplans for consideration and approval. The workplans covered activities prioritized in the broad areas of sensitization and training of the general public and special groups such as the youth, women and opinion leaders, mobilization of the public to actively participate in the campaign against corruption, media talks and consultative meetings with the National and County Governments and stakeholders. The workplans were discussed and approved as prioritized with an allocation of KShs 8.55 million. The Secretariat was directed to facilitate implementation, particularly for the new CACCOCs.

b) Strengthening Existing CACCOCs

NACCSC reconstituted two CACCOCs, thus Bungoma and Busia, by increasing the number of members and training them. 26 CACCOCs members, 14 from Bungoma and 12 from Busia, undertook a two-day capacity building workshop each, on 19th - 20th and 22nd -23rd June, 2017 respectively. The objective of the workshops was to equip the members with knowledge and skills to enable them effectively implement the awareness creation campaign, monitor and address corruption in the implementation of public projects and programmes and provide support mechanism necessary for the public to actively participate in fighting and preventing corruption at the grassroots. The two CACCOCs were fully operationalized.

c) Establishment of New County Anti-Corruption Civilian Oversight Committees

NACCSC, with support from the Inter-Religious Council of Kenya, Maendeleo Ya Wanawake Organization and National Youth Council, established four new County Anti-Corruption Civilian Oversight Committees in Nyeri, Uasin Gishu, Trans Nzoia and Nandi Counties. The institutions, upon request, nominated and submitted names of potential members, of whom NACCSC considered and appointed 39 to form the new CACCOCs. The members were trained in Nakuru on 14th – 17th June, 2017 at Milele Hotel. Participants were also issued with 43 pieces of IEC materials.

The two-day capacity building workshop equipped the new CACCOC members with knowledge and skills necessary for the discharge of their functions. The workshops covered the topics mandate of NACCSC and CACCOCs, understanding corruption, social audit and corruption in project cycle, budgetary process, records management, public procurement, detecting and reporting corruption and public complaints handling. The workshop was facilitated by officers drawn from NACCSC Secretariat and Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission (EACC). At the end of the workshop, the CACCOCs were directed to each hold an inaugural meeting to elect a Chairperson and a Secretary. The Secretariat Staff, thereafter, guided the CACCOCs in preparing their 2017/2018 workplans.

2. Campaign Activities Implemented by CACCOCs

a) Consultative Meetings

The Regional Anti-Corruption Coordinators and CACCOCs held 27 consultative meetings with stakeholders in 12 Counties reaching a total of 51 officials as indicated in table 1 below: -

Table 1: Consultative Forums held with Stakeholders

S/ No	CACCOC	No of Consultative Forums	No of Participants Reached	IEC Materials Distributed

	Total	27	51	-

The meetings were held to discuss the campaign activities in the CACCOCs workplans and rally support for their implementation, including provision of information on the public projects and programmes under implementation.

Challenges

Lack of information on public projects and programmes being implemented by both National and County Governments because the responsible public officials are uncooperative and inadequate participation by the officers charged with implementing such projects.

b) Social Audits and Public Reporting Forums

A total of 24 Social Audits and reporting forums were undertaken by eight CACCOCs reaching a total of 2,457 key beneficiaries of the projects covered as summarized in table 2 below: -

Table 2: Social Audits and Reporting Forums

S/ No	CACCOC	No of Social Audits and Public Reporting Forums	No of Beneficiaries Reached	No of IEC Materials Distributed

Participants were sensitized on what corruption is, types and effects; stages in the project cycle, how corruption affects the projects and the preventive measures available to the public such as ensuring that project management committees were elected, adequate information on funds allocated, sources duration of implementation was provided, but most importantly, ensure that they do not participate or aid in theft of materials from the sites by unscrupulous contractors and public officials. Social audits help illustrate to the public how corruption affects public projects.

Two classrooms constructed in the same School at a total cost of KShs 500,000. The classrooms were complete and in use

c) Public Barazas

Eight CACCOCs participated in 29 public barazas and forums organized by other stakeholders, majorly by officers from the Ministry of Interior and Coordination of National Government. The barazas were held in Embu, Meru, Kirinyaga, Kilifi, Mombasa, Kisii, Bungoma and Makueni Counties as summarized in table 3 below: -

6	Kisii	7	932	-
7	Bungoma	4	1,140	-
8	Makueni	1	57	-
	Grand Total	29	3,251	-

Anti-corruption messages disseminated to the 3,251 participants included what corruption is, types, manifestations, effects and benefits of fighting corruption. Participants were also sensitized on actions that they should take to prevent corruption in public projects.

Challenges

The public has been made believed that, by causing projects to be implemented in the localities, leaders were doing them a favour. This robs the public the right to ask questions or even have access to information on such projects. As a result, public officials engage in corrupt practices and actually get away with their actions.

d) Sensitization Workshops

NACCSC undertook four anti-corruption sensitization workshops in Kakamega and Makueni Counties for various groups that have a role in the fight against corruption. A total of 292 participants were sensitized as indicated in table 4 below: -

Table 4: Sensitization Workshops for Specific Groups

No	County	Date	Group	No of Participants
1.	Kakamega	26 th June, 2017	Religious Leaders	77
		27 th June, 2017	Youth Leaders	85
		28 th June, 2017	Project Management Committees	71
2.	Makueni	28 th June, 2017	Religious Leaders	59
Total				292

The objective of the workshops was to equip the participants with knowledge and skills necessary to fight and prevent corruption. Participants were sensitized on the mandate of NACCSC, what corruption is, its types, manifestations and effects; social audit and corruption in the project cycle, actions that should be taken and, most important, the role of the youth and religious leaders, and indeed the general public, in the war against corruption. They were also sensitized on opportunities available for youth empowerment and Access to Government Procurement Opportunities (AGPO) rolled out by the Government for youth, women and persons with disabilities. The youth were encouraged to avoid being idle but involve themselves in gainful employment.

Religious Leaders from Makeni County listen to Regional Anti-Corruption Coordinator, Ms Sophie Ligondo, during the sensitization workshop held at Wote. The Leaders were sensitized on their role in the fight against corruption.

Challenges

The youth were not keen on embracing and practicing positive values, which makes them vulnerable to manipulation and misuse by corrupt individuals.

e) Capacity Building Workshops

(i) Training of the Administrative Officers

NACCSC, in collaboration with the Ministry of Interior and Coordination of National Government in Kiambu and Meru Counties, organized two anti-corruption workshops in December 2016 for Administrative Officers (AOs). The workshops were organized to train and enhance the capacity of the officers to fight corruption in the implementation of public projects and programmes under the National Government. A total of 127 AOs, 68 in Meru and 59 in Kiambu, were sensitized on the mandate of NACCSC, understanding corruption, social audit and corruption in the project cycle; and the role of the public in fighting and preventing corruption. The officers were expected to carry and disseminate the messages and mobilize the citizens within their areas of jurisdiction to actively participate in fighting corruption.

(ii) Village Capacity Building Seminars

Three CACCOCs thus Meru, Embu and Kirinyaga conceptualized one day seminars to sensitize and build the capacity of grassroots leaders in the sub-counties to fight and prevent corruption. 10 seminars, branded Village Capacity Building Seminars due to the fact that they targeted grassroots opinion leaders and were held in the local townships, were organized in collaboration with the Ministry of Interior and Coordination of National Government in March and April 2017. A total of 407 key leaders were trained as indicated in table 5 below: -

Table 5: Village Capacity Building Seminars held by CACCOCs

S/NO	County	Sub-Counties Covered	No of Seminars	No of Participants
1.	Meru	Imenti South	3	124
2.	Embu	Manyatta, Embu West and Mbeere South	4	150
3.	Kirinyaga	Mwea East and Kutus	3	133

Community and Opinion leaders and Nyumba Kumi Initiative representatives pose for a group photograph during the Karaba Village Capacity Building Seminar in Mbere South Sub-County, Embu County. Seated on the extreme left is the Regional Anti-Corruption Coordinator, Mr. Lawrence Chege.

Topics covered included the mandate of NACCSC, what corruption is, its manifestations and effects on the society; social audit and corruption in the project cycle; and the role of the leaders in spearheading the fight against corruption. The leaders were, in turn, expected to carry the anti-corruption messages back home to the residents in the villages where they lived and mobilize them to participate in campaign activities, especially social audits and public reporting forums for community projects implemented using public funds.

3. Collaboration and Partnerships

a) Partnerships with Organizations Represented in NACCSC Membership

Implementation of the Memoranda of Understanding (MoUs) signed between NACCSC and organizations represented in its membership to further the campaign and disseminate anti-corruption messages progressed as follows: -

(i) Development of Scripture-Referenced Anti-Corruption Messages

The Inter Religious Council of Kenya (IRCK) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with NACCSC on 8th April, 2015. As part of the implementation of the MoU, the two institutions prioritized the development of Scripture-Referenced Anti-Corruption Messages that will form the basis of a nationwide behavioural change and awareness campaign led by the Religious Leaders, an activity that has made good progress. Religious Leaders and Theologians held a meeting on 14th October 2016 during which the changes to the messages that were recommended in a validation workshop held on 4th August, 2016 were confirmed and incorporated. The Leaders then approved the messages and tasked NACCSC to print the booklets.

The leaders further recommended that H.E the President be invited to officiate the launch of the campaign at a venue in Nairobi City after which the dissemination of the messages would be undertaken regionally. In the regions, Religious Leaders would first be sensitized on the messages and then issued with the Booklets to enable them disseminate the messages systematically and consistently. In addition, a few 'champions' would be identified to record the messages for further dissemination through multimedia platforms and networks.

6,300 Booklets were printed and delivered to NACCSC in February 2017. Preparations for the launch were finalized and an invitation sent to the proposed chief guest, a response is awaited.

(ii) Maendeleo Ya Wanawake Organization

NACCSC signed a MoU with the Maendeleo Ya Wanawake Organization (MYWO) on 31st March, 2015 to further the campaign against corruption nationwide. As part of the implementation of the MoU, the two institutions prioritized sensitization and awareness creation workshops for the elected MYWO leaders in all the counties. The three-day workshops were conceived and organized to sensitize the leaders on what corruption is, types, manifestations and effects; and empower them to take actions necessary to prevent and fight the vice. The workshops were jointly held in the period January to March 2017 in four regions reaching a total of 157 elected leaders drawn from 17 counties as indicated in table 6 below.

Table 6: Summary of Sensitization Workshops for Elected MYWO Leaders

S/ No	Date	Venue	Region	Counties Covered	No of Participants
1.	16 th - 18 th January, 2017	Garissa	North Eastern	Garissa, Wajir and Mandera	31
2.	23 rd - 25 th January, 2017	Embu	Eastern	Makueni, Kitui, Machakos, Embu, Tharaka Nithi, Meru, Isiolo and Marsabit	62
3.	30 th January - 2 nd February, 2017	Muranga	Central	Kiambu, Muranga, Kirinyaga, Nyeri and Nyandarua	49
4.	28 th February - 4 th March, 2017	Machakos	Nairobi	Nairobi City County	14
Total				17	157

The workshops brought the total of counties whose leaders had been sensitized to 47. Topics covered included NACCSC mandate, understanding corruption, social audit and corruption in the project cycle, role of women in the fight against corruption, budget making process and public participation, Access to Government Procurement Opportunities (AGPO), corruption in electoral processes and communicating anti-corruption messages. Facilitators were drawn from NACCSC, Office of the Attorney General and Department of Justice, Independent Electoral and Boundaries and Commission and MYWO.

The leaders indicated they found the workshops very useful and empowering and promised to not only carry the messages back to the electorate in their respective counties but also mobilize them to actively participate in fighting corruption. Immediate changes could be noticed as the leadership, especially in Nairobi region, begun introspection and questioning some of the transactions in their organization they had previously viewed as normal. Participants applauded NACCSC for funding and facilitating the training and recommended that similar workshops be rolled out to the sub-counties so as to reach a large number of the grassroots women and create a critical mass of anti-corruption crusaders.

Challenge

NACCSC did not have sufficient funds to mount sensitization workshops for women leaders in the sub-counties as well produce sufficient IEC materials for distribution.

Maendeleo Ya Wanawake Organization Leaders from Nairobi City County during a sensitization workshop to equip them with skills to enable them reach out to grassroots women and enlist them in the fight against corruption

(iii) Integrated Public Complaints Referral Mechanism

Six institutions, thus EACC, NCIC, KNCHR, CAJ, TI(K) and NACCSC signed a MoU to partner and collaborate on receiving and processing public complaints through online platforms under the Integrated Public Complaints Referral Mechanism (IPCRM). Two workshops were held in Naivasha from 24th to 28th October, 2016 and 30th October to 4th November, 2016 for officials involved in the implementation of IPCRM in the North Rift, Western and Nyanza regions and Central Kenya, Nairobi and North Eastern regions respectively. The workshops aimed at sensitizing the participants on the mandates of partner institutions and training them on how to upload and refer complaints received from the members of public using the e-platform. NACCSC was represented by the Kakamega, Kirinyaga and Embu CACCOC Chairmen and two Regional Anti-Corruption Coordinators from Coast and Central.

NACCSC contributes to the initiative through the CACCOCs which create awareness and publicize the initiative, receive, upload and refer public complaints as well as provide feedback to the complainants once the complaints were resolved. NACCSC also analyzes the complaints with a view to establishing corruption trends and uses the information to formulate intervention measures to minimize such complaints for the benefit of the citizens.

(b) Partnership with World Bank

NACCSC approached the World Bank for support to the campaign under the Kenya Accountable Devolution Programme to promote public participation in the budgetary processes in the counties. NACCSC case was that the involvement of the public in budgeting would greatly reduce corruption as they would directly participate in project identification, prioritization, approval and implementation. During the preliminary meetings with the Secretariat, the World Bank officials indicated that they had identified Makueni, Elgeiyo Marakwet, Baringo, West Pokot and Kwale Counties to participate in the Programme on pilot basis. NACCSC has CACCOCs existing in those counties, except Kwale, which could effectively implement activities to support the Programme.

The World Bank agreed that, as part of the preparations to enter into the partnership, the Secretariat Staff and CACCOCs members in the four Counties be trained on Participatory Budgeting. Eight members of the Secretariat Staff attended a two-day workshop at the World Bank offices in Nairobi on 20th and 21st March, 2017 while 26 members drawn from the four CACCOCs were trained in Eldoret from 3rd to 5th April, 2017 by a consultant provided by the Bank. During the workshop, the link between participatory budgeting and the fight against corruption was clearly articulated and participants agreed that the initiative would enhance the capacity of CACCOCs to implement the awareness campaign. Specifically, the role of CACCOCs in empowering the citizens to oversight public projects and programmes through social audits and public reporting forums was identified. CACCOCs prepared workplans for the activities covering the period 2017-18, which consolidated and submitted to the Bank to form the basis of discussions for the partnership that NACCSC had proposed. NACCSC awaits written commitment by the World Bank to the partnership.

b) Partnership with GIZ under the Good Governance Support Programme Activities

NACCSC has been implementing campaign activities under the Good Governance Support Programme implemented by GIZ. The Programme was aimed at improving service delivery in accordance with the incorruptibility, fairness and efficiency principles of good governance, at both the National and County levels. In the reporting period, NACCSC implemented activities in the 2016 workplan as follows: -

(i) Capacity Building of CACCOCs on the New Social Audit Tool

NACCSC implemented campaign activities for Kakamega, Bungoma and West Pokot CACCOCs in the period 17th October to 4th November, 2016. The activities were geared towards building the capacity of CACCOCs members on the revised social audit tool, sensitization of Project Management Committees on corruption in the project implementation and undertaking two practical social audits and public reporting forums in each of the three counties as indicated in the table 7 below: -

In each County, GIZ procured the services of a local FM Radio Station to carry casual announcements inviting members of the public to attend and participate in the social audits and reporting forums and a one-hour talk show for each CACCOC to discuss with the residents the findings and communicate the decisions that were made by beneficiaries on corrective measures. The public actively participated through short text messages, telephone call-ins and social media posts.

(ii) 4th Joint Steering Committee Meeting

NACCSC participated in the 4th Joint Steering Committee meeting on 11th October, 2016 to discuss the programme's strategic and policy direction; consider the progress and achievements of the programme and unveil the Good Governance Support Programme for the 2017-2018 period. NACCSC presented the strategic interventions, achievements and future priorities. In the 2017-18 period, GIZ had set aside KShs 700 million for activities under the Good Governance Support Programme and would engage with each organization to individually agree on the activities to be implemented in the period. NACCSC developed and submitted a workplan which was pending approval by GIZ.

(iii) Non State Actors Forum on Social Accountability Approaches

A Learning and Sharing Forum for the Non-State Actors (NSAs) that implemented social audits under the GIZ Good Governance Support Programme was held on 14th October, 2016. The objective of the forum was for the NSAs to share experiences encountered in the counties during implementation of social audits, results achieved, how activity could be improved, challenges faced and how each institution mitigated against them. NACCSC made a presentation on the activities that it had implemented under the Programme. During plenary, it was discussed and agreed that the NSAs should synergize and collaborate so as to achieve impactful results, encourage citizens to continue participating in social audits for public projects and programmes, follow up actions/recommendations arising from the social audits and continuously root for behavioural change towards corruption.

ADMINISTRATION ACTIVITIES

Under administration activities, administrative and logistical support was provided to various campaign activities generated and implemented by various programme desks.

1. Administrative and Logistical Support

All programme campaign activities were provided with administrative and logistical support. These included preparation and distribution of letters to various institutions and stakeholders; organizing transport for the NACCSC staff and IEC materials; registration and facilitation of participants; procuring venues for the sensitization activities, production and distribution of briefs, preparation of training materials, social audits and reporting forums and radio campaign programmes. All the activity venues were branded appropriately.

2. Preparation of the 2017/18-2019/20 Medium Term Expenditure Framework Budget

NACCSC participated in the 2017/18 – 2019/20 Medium Term Expenditure Framework budgetary process. The process had been brought forward by three months to ensure that the 2017/18 Budget Estimates would be approved by the Parliament before it adjourned for the General Election scheduled to be held in August 2017. The Secretariat submitted a proposal for consideration and funding by the Government totaling KShs, 261,496,000. During the resource sharing retreat for the Governance, Justice, Law and Order Sector (GJLOS) held in Mombasa, NACCSC allocation was increased by an extra KShs 700,000 only from KShs 138,040,000 to KShs 138,740,000 as reflected in the printed estimates.

3. 2016-2021 NACCSC Strategic Plan

The NACCSC, with support from GIZ under the Governance Support Programme, organized a workshop on 6th October 2016 for stakeholders to discuss the 2016-2021 Strategic Plan and provide their comments. At the end of the workshop, the Strategic Plan was, through a resolution, validated with some amendments proposed by the stakeholders. The comments were considered and incorporated and the process was completed with approval of the Plan by NACCSC. The consultant, ACAL Consulting Ltd, handed over the dummy Plan for NACCSC to procure a service provider to print 500 copies and thereafter distribute the Plan to the CACCOCs and stakeholders. The activity would be completed in the 2017-18 financial year. Implementation of the Plan has already commenced.

FINANCE

Finance and Accounts Services

The Finance and Accounts Section facilitated the implementation of programmed campaign activities through preparation and follow up of procurement requisitions for goods and services; and preparation and processing of imprests, payments and local purchase/service orders. The section also advised NACCSC on financial matters during planning and implementation of campaign activities and also provided expenditure reports.
